President's Message

As we enter the 46th year of Maryland TAMS I have mixed feelings about our club's future. There are good & bad things happening that we all should be aware of. First the good news. We have signed up several new members & have recently had our first full meeting since Fall 2023. The meeting at the Broadneck branch of the Anne Arundel Public Library system was a qualified success. 11 members (about 20 percent of our total membership) showed up. We held a short business meeting & had a pleasant afternoon of buying, selling & trading. 5 Delmarva members showed up, along with 2 from Southern Maryland, Bernie from Harford County & Len from Baltimore County. We had a long-time member from Anne Arundel County make his first meeting & a new member came all the way from Gettysburg, PA! The attendance was very encouraging & we are planning to use the Broadneck Library as our Spring base. Fall meetings are in the works with the first one being planned for the Aberdeen area. More information to follow as Bernie helps to set up the venue & date.

Sadly, Jane could not make the Spring meeting. She has been bed-ridden for the past 2 months, and her health does not seem to be improving.

Jane does so much for us so please keep her in your thoughts & prayers. Is because of her hard work that we have this great journal. As some of you know, Bernie is recovering from prostate cancer surgery & is currently on chemotherapy treatments. He also has been plagued with neck problems & has a team of doctors working on a solution. Bernie has done much to keep the club's revenues in order. Len turns 90 this year but he keeps plugging along. He's in the best health of any of the officers. Thank you, Len, for your great job as secretary. As for me, I'm still working on disposing of Ed Craig's collection. Have thousands of berry picker's chits, as well as lots of advertising & other forms of ephemera. Thousands of tokens & medals too so please contact me if you have any interest.

Let's enjoy this club while we can. We'd love to have some new blood sharing the load. Don't be afraid to help (speaking of which we need a vice-president). Please get involved & have a happy summer!

Bill

FROM YOUR EDITOR

Hello Fellow Members

Summer is almost here. As of today there are a total of 35 journals going out to life and regular paid members. You are lucky to get this journal. It was almost completed except for the president message, minutes and swap photos. At the end of March I got the flu. It really is taking a toll on me. Thanks to my son Dave getting this journal to you.

IF YOU COULD ONLY TALK

Many of you know that the family of our late president Ed Craig has asked me to sell off Ed's collection of exonomia. Ed had collected/accumulated tens of thousands of tokens & medals & it has taken almost 6 months to affect a first rough sort of the group. As you can imagine there's been a lot of marginal items as well as some very rare & valuable items. Going through hundreds of boxes, binders & bags has yielded some surprises. Probably the biggest surprise of all was a unique gold medal from the 1937 Cumberland, Maryland sesquicentennial celebration. Even more surprising was that the medal was housed in a rather plain & ordinary 2x2 holder bearing the name C.H. Schafner, with a price of $4.00:

C.H. Schafner was apparently a collector - dealer from Louisville, KY, active from the 1960s-1990s. An on-line search of his name shows he had routinely placed classified ads in Coin World & the TAMS Journal. It is possible that the medal had been sold in a fixed price list or mail bid offer. It seems certain that neither seller nor buyer knew what it was. Admittedly at first glance it could have been mistaken for brass, but it appears no brass medals were struck.

A June 1937 article in The Numismatist, the national publication of the American Numismatic Association (ANA), mentions the issuance of only bronze medals for the celebration, but thanks to information passed on by Melvin & George Fuld we know that a single gold medal was struck, along with a dozen silver medals.

CUMBERLAND (MD.) TO CELEBRATE ITS SESQUICENTENNIAL.

For the dual celebration, August 4 to 14, of its 150th anniversary as well as the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, Cumberland, Md., has issued a medal, which is illustrated here.

Cumberland was originally founded in 1749, when the Ohio Company employed Christopher Gist to build a fort upon the site. Thomas Beall laid out a town, known as Washington Town, but the name was changed in 1787 to Cumberland, after the fort, when it received its charter.

One side of the medal shows Fort Cumberland as it appeared in 1755. Surrounding it is the inscription, "Sesquicentennial Adoption of the Constitution of the United States 1787." The other side has a view of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal and the inscription "Sesquicentennial City of Cumberland 1787-1937." The medal is struck in bronze.

The Fuld's silver medal along with its provenance made its way to the Russ & Jane Sears collection before being purchased by the author. As we can see Fuld mentions only one gold medal being struck (selling for $25.00). My hat is off the Fuld's for preserving the information about the medals & to Russ & Jane Sears for keeping the information with the medal. Bronze examples of the medal are easily obtainable with over a dozen examples being offered on eBay as of this writing (Ed's accumulation included 10 of the bronze medals). Fuld tells us that of the 12 silver examples struck, 2 were destroyed. Ed had the A. Vernon Taylor specimen in his collection. It would be interesting to know what happened to the other 8 silver medals.

So, what happened to the gold medal? Who was the first owner? How did it get to be in Louisville, KY? How did Ed obtain it? And why didn't anyone know it was gold? Interesting questions to ask – if only the medal could talk.

Two go-along pictures: one of the wooden nickels made for the sesquicentennial celebration & one of an orange sticker from the same.

The Atlantic Personnel Services Company was founded by Theodore Neal "Ted" Holmes in 1969. Mr. Holmes was born in York, PA on October 16, 1939. Mr. Holmes came to Baltimore to work in the personnel department of the Chessie System. He left Chessie in 1969 to start his own temporary help employment agency, "Atlantic Personnel Services" and it eventually moved into the commercial food service business. The company received government contracts to provide kitchen and janitorial services to military bases. It received help from the small business administration's 8 (a) set asides money for minority businesses. This company was a black-owned company.

In 1973-4 the company was located at 3 North Eutaw Street on the ground floor of the old Kelly's Hotel. Then in 1975 the company moved to the Blaustein Building, suite 1014 at 1 North Charles Street.

In 1974 he won a contract to handle military cargo at the Dundalk Marine Terminal and later branched into a firm that supplied meals to colleges and military installations. In 1977 the Atlantic Personnel Services and the Martins, Inc. ran the concessions at the Civic Center.

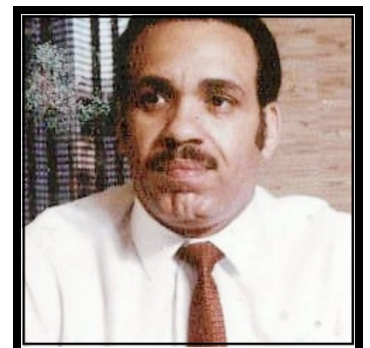

In 1979 Mr. Holmes created the franchise called "Chicken George" a fast food restaurant. Opening his first restaurant in November 1979 in the Mondawmin Mall, in West Baltimore, MD. The chain was in the Joloj Industries Inc. firm. The trademark and name was from the character in the Alex Haley's bestselling book "Roots". By 1981 there were four stores in Baltimore, two in Philadelphia, one in Washington D.C. and another in Norfolk, VA. Franchises of the restaurant extend to Atlanta, Los Angeles and other cities. The headquarters was located in Baltimore Downtown. Chicken George was a subsidiary of Atlantic Personnel Services Company. Chicken George, Inc. was sold in 1987 to the Geogre, Hill & Sons, Management Company, Inc. In September 1991, the Chicken George Company filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy to be dissolved.

Atlantic Personnel Services, Inc. was involved solely in contract feeding in the food service providing to colleges and military installations. In 1986 it was now involved in Janitorial maintenance service, primarily under contract with the military.

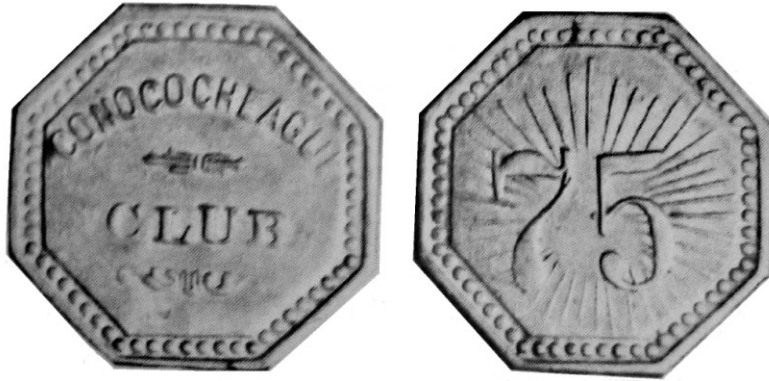

There is an Atlantic Personnel Services, Inc. in Fort Meade, MD in 2025 but I can't find if it is the same company. There no information for that company. If the company under Mr. Holmes closed I can't find the date. Mr. Holmes resigned as president of the company in 1986. The firm may have continued without him.

He died December 9, 2011 at the age of 72 years old. He was 72 years old.

If there is another company starting in 1976 and ran though 2003. I can't find anything about it. This is my thought for this item.

It was listed under clubs in the Hagerstown City Directories for the years 1915-20. Below is a part of the transcription of the lawsuit that was issued against the Conococheague Club v. The State of Maryland

CONOCOCHEAGUE CLUB OF WASHINGTON COUNTY v STATE

(Court of Appeals of MD June 24, 1911)

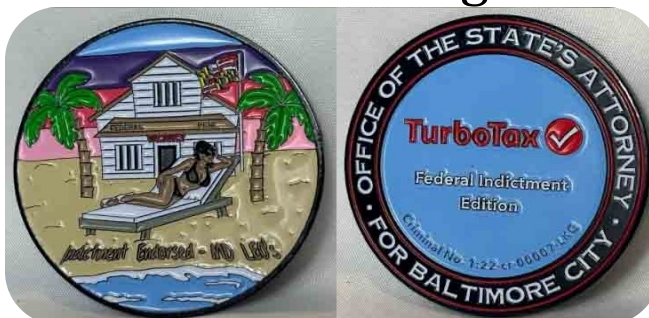

The Conococheague Club of Washington County was indicted in the Circuit Court for Washington County for violation of the Act of 1908, Chapter 380. The indictment contains two counts. In the first the defendant, being at the time a licensee to sell spirituous and fermented liquors under Article 56 of the Code of Public General Laws of the State of Maryland, as therein alleged, is charged with unlawfully selling whiskey without first having obtained a license therefore, as provided by the act above mentioned. The second count is like the first except that the defendant is charged with the sale of lager beer. To the first count of the indictment the defendant pleaded:

The Conococheague Club of Washington County is a corporation formed under the General Incorporation Laws of the State of Maryland. That its charter was granted to it on the second day of November, A.D., in 1895. That the said corporation so formed is an association for the maintenance of an association or club for social purposes and for the promotion of the interests of literature, science and art, and to have a clubhouse to be used for the objects above mentioned, that the term of existence of said corporation is limited to forty years, and that the said corporation is formed upon the articles, conditions and provisions herein expressed and subject in all particulars to the limitations relating to corporations which are contained in the General Laws of the State. That the said charter further provides 'that the present members of the said Conococheague Club, and such as may hereafter become members of the same by virtue of the constitution and by-laws thereof, adopted or hereafter adopted shall compose said corporation and exercise the functions and franchises thereof. That the said the corporation has no capital stock. That the corporation is managed by a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer and twelve governors elected by the members, all of whom constitute the board of management of said club, and that new members of said club are elected by the board of governors after such new members have been proposed by one member of the club, seconded by another, and after their names have been posted in the clubhouse for at least ten days. That the said the corporation has adopted a constitution and passed certain by-laws for its better government and regulation. That the said corporation is the owner of its clubhouse on West Washington street, in Hagerstown, Maryland, and near the centre of the city, a valuable piece of real estate which it has since its incorporation used and occupied as its home, and for purposes for which it was incorporated. That the said corporation transacts no business of any kind whatever for the purpose of making any profit directly or indirectly for itself or for its members, and that its only income is the money derived from entrance fees, annual dues, money paid for members for such meals, refreshments and liquors as they may get and consume at the clubhouse, and money paid by members of the club for the use and occupation by them of sleeping rooms in said clubhouse and money derived from such additional assessments, fines and penalties as may be from time to time imposed upon the members under its rules and by-laws. That the money received from these various sources is expended in paying the current expense of the corporation, taxes on its clubhouse and keeping the same in proper repair, procuring food refreshments and liquors to take place of that consumed and used by the members in paying the subscriptions for the magazines, periodicals and newspapers kept in the clubhouse for the use of its members and in paying the interest on the indebtedness of the said corporation. That the said meals, liquors and refreshments used and consumed by the said corporation and its members at its clubhouse are bought by the corporation, kept in the clubhouse under the charge of its steward who is an employee of the corporation. That the members of the club can procure from the corporation through its said steward, such meals, liquors, refreshments and the use of such sleeping rooms as they may desire by calling for them and paying the price fixed by the regulations of the corporation, and that the price so paid as fixed, is fixed and paid not for the purpose of making any profit either directly or indirectly, but merely for the purpose of covering the outlay thereof by the corporation and the expenses attendant upon the keeping and serving thereof at the said clubhouse and with the funds received from other sources of the maintaining of said clubhouse and that the funds derived from such furnishing of spirituous and fermented liquors to members as aforesaid is insufficient to pay the cost and service thereof, and that to meet the excess of such costs funds from other sources must be used.

In 1924, Raymond Funkhouser offered $35,000 for the Conococheague Club site on W. Washington Street, where he wants to build a large office building.

At the age of sixteen he engaged in the lumber trade and formed a partnership with his brother William H. Shryock under the firm name W. H. Shryock & Co. at the corner of Union Dock and Eastern Avenue. At the age of 21, he became the sole proprietor and continued the business alone until 1880. Then he became a wholesale lumber dealer with his partner George F. M. Houck and the name of the firm called Thomas J. Shryock & Company. In 1880, he built the Shryock Wharf and in 1885 started a branch wholesale lumber business in Washington, DC.

The hierarchy of the Catholic Church consists of its bishops, priests, and deacons. The term "hierarchy" strictly means the "holy ordering" of the church, the Body of Christ. The authority rests chiefly with bishops while priests and deacons serve as their assistants, co-workers or helpers. The Pope himself is also the bishop of Rome. At the end of 2020, the Catholic Church consisted of 2,903 dioceses which are overseen by a bishop. Then the dioceses are divided into individual parishes with deacons, priest or ministers overlooking it.

Rev. John Carroll was born January 8, 1735 and died December 3, 1815. He was an American Catholic who served as the first Bishop of Baltimore, the first dioceses in the new United States, and then the first Archbishop of Baltimore.

Fr. Michael McGivney was born August 12, 1852 and died August 14, 1890. He was an American Catholic priest based in New Haven, Connecticut. He founded the Knights of Columbus an organization that shared aid and insurance organization for local immigrants and their families. Today it is the world's largest Catholic Fraternal Organization.
